MAYOR TO APPOINT COMMITTEE TO FURTHER STUDY REQUESTS OF DUTCH INDUSTRIALIST

A committee is to be named by Mayor Warren Carver to further study the requests made of the city by Mr. F. H. G. Beeren, industrialist from Weert, Holland. Such was the decision of a group of business men who met at the Court House on Tuesday night, May 23 to discuss what further steps should be taken towards trying to locate this industrial plant in Bay St. Louis. The mayor stated that this committee would be named without delay and, if possible, immediate contact would be made with Mr. Beeren to work out a solution to all the questions that have arisen in connection with this probable location here.

BOND ISSUE NECESSARY

In order to locate the foreign industrial plant here it will be necessary to float an issue of bonds for the construction of a building, the mayor stated. A building measuring 100x200 feet of concrete and steel construction which is the type and size of building requested by Mr. Beeren, would cost approximately $100,000.00.

It has been agreed that the factory would pay the city a rental of $6,000 yearly on such a building with the understanding that the first year would be free in order to offset to some extent the cost of organizational expense. A further provision is that the plant after the first year's operation would be granted a credit of 1 percent of the total payment. In other words, the plant would pay $5,400 the first year, $5,760 the second year, and so on. At the end of the third year the total payment of the plant would be $5,000 instead of $6,000. If and when the total payment of the plant should reach $600,000 or more per year then the plant would operate rent free so long as that payment was maintained. When the bonds are paid, the building remains the property of the city and the lease rental is a matter of agreement between the city and the occupant of the plant.

COMES HIGHLY RECOMMENDED
The Miss. A & I Board, which has made as thorough an investigation as possible into the past reputation, the credit standing and the reliability of Mr. Beeren, had this to say in a letter to Mayor Carver on Tuesday of this week:

—COPY TELEGRAM—
Check with Wilcox & Gibbs Sewing Machine Company, New York, indicates Beeren one of top European industrial men. Check with foreign credit Interchange Bureau, New York, indicates N. V. Tricortage Fabriek, Weert, Holland, which is Beeren's Dutch Company has paid in stock equivalent to 11 million dollars plus annual sales equivalent to $3,800,000. World Wide Sales Outlet, 1200 employees. Modern plant, excellent credit. Neither source knows how much money Beeren was able to take out of Holland.

(Signed) Miss. Agricultural & Industrial Board.

OTHER COMMUNITIES WANT PLANT
At least two other communities in Mississippi are known to be bidding for the plant. Bay Springs, which has at the present time, two vacant buildings, was visited by Mr. Beeren and his secretary last week. Drew, Mississippi, another community with plant facilities already available also was visited by the industrialist party.

LIKES BAY ST. LOUIS
While it is true that these communities have existing facilities to offer, Mr. Beeren expressed himself as being highly pleased with Bay St. Louis. He liked one particular location shown him during his visit last week. The fact that New Orleans, a large city, is within a short distance is another factor in favor of Bay St. Louis. The industrialist party here which, according to the latest analysis, contains only about one-quarter of one percent iron is favorable to textile operations, Mr. Beeren stated. Coupled with these favorable factors Mr. Beeren stated during his visit here last week, is the fact that he has been assured of cooperation to the fullest extent by all residents of this community with whom he has come in contact.

TAX-FREE FOR 5-YEAR PERIOD
Under the laws of the State of Mississippi, Mayor Carver explained, any new factory or new enterprise of public utility locating in this State shall be granted exemption for ad valorem taxation, except state ad valorem taxation, for a period of 5 years.

CITY CAN FLOAT BONDS TO BUILD OUTSIDE CORPORATE LIMITS
Under the provisions of the State Agricultural and Industrial program, it is legal for the municipality to float an issue of bonds to construct an industrial building outside the corporate limits, it was learned yesterday. Cleveland, Mississippi, constructed a building for Real Silk Hosiery Company in this manner.

TAXPAYERS PROTECTED
Also under the provisions of the Agricultural and Industrial program, the taxpayers and property holders are guaranteed the fullest possible protection from any "fly-by-night" operator. Before the A & I Board will approve an issue of bonds, they must be fully convinced that the person, firm, or corporation for whom the building is being constructed from the issue of such bonds are of solid credit standing, and of sound credit standing.

GROUP DISCUSSES POSSIBILITY OF COUNTY FAIR AND LIVESTOCK SHOW

While it will be practically impossible to stage a county-wide livestock show in Bay St. Louis along with a county fair in 1950, nevertheless, a group of interested members of the County Live Stock Association met last week with County Agent Howard Simmons, J. M. Dean, Executive Secretary of the Mississippi Agricultural & Industrial Exposition, and Mayor Warren Carver, to discuss the possibility of future fairs and shows for Hancock County. There was a great deal of interest and enthusiasm shown at the meeting.

In order to put on such a show it would be necessary for the local Live Stock Association to raise funds for that purpose in order to pay prizes and premiums or awards. Of the amount raised locally, the State of Mississippi would contribute 50 percent of that amount towards the expenses of the show and fair.

In order to qualify for participation in State funds for payment of premiums in County Livestock Shows, said Mr. Dean, the following rules and regulations must be adopted:

1. There must be an organized and functioning county livestock association.
2. Applications for the allocation of livestock premium funds shall be made to the Agricultural and Industrial Exposition Commission, not later than June 1st of each year.
3. All allocations will be made on the animal unit system, based on the amount of State appropriation.
4. The livestock association will be responsible for the management of the livestock show, but said livestock show may be in connection with or a part of an annual county fair. And such livestock association must provide livestock premiums or awards for such show in the minimum amount of $500.

5. Not more than one county livestock show or any such annual event in any one county, will receive state aid.
6. Premiums during the fiscal year, nor, will more than one application from a county be considered.
7. Livestock shows may be held anytime during the fiscal year, July 1 to June 30.

8. Adequate barns, sheds, tents, stalls, and pens with cover to protect livestock exhibits shall be provided in the show grounds.
9. Eligible breeds, types and classes of livestock include the various breeds of beef and dairy cattle, hogs, sheep, and poultry; also, grade or cross-bred animals by registered sire; also, utility types and breeds of horses and farm mules.

10. Extension Form 42 is recommended for use by clerks in shows. As certain from judge rating as blue, red, or white, to complete record on which application for next show to be made.

11. County Livestock Association will certify that premium payments within thirty (30) days after each show to the State Commission, Jackson, Miss.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO SPONSOR DRIVE FOR PURCHASE OF SPRAY MACHINE

Last year the city of Bay St. Louis paid more than $100,000 to have the city sprayed against insects.

This year we plan to have a similar drive to raise several hundred dollars for the purpose of purchasing a spray machine and give to the city. Porter's Pontiac Service is building this machine and will have it ready before the middle of June. The city already has one thousand pounds of DDT and is ready to rid our city of insects as soon as we are able to purchase the machine.

The Chamber of Commerce is, once again, sponsoring the drive to officially open the drive to raise the several hundred dollars needed to purchase this spraying machine. The Chamber of Commerce is making a donation of $100 to start the campaign off.

All business people may send in their $10 or $15 to the Spray Committee, Chamber of Commerce and all those in the residential sections send a dollar or two, for you are the ones who will benefit most.

Lets get our money to the Spray Committee now so that we can get this spray machine operating before the 15th of June, for the insects are not getting any better.

Don't forget, this machine will become City property to be used in the years to come.

Those serving on the committee are: R. L. Hamilton, Dr. J. L. Griffin, Walter J. Phillips, and Emmett Demoran.

DO WE WANT INDUSTRY OR DON'T WE?

A meeting was held on Tuesday night of this week at the Court House to discuss the possibility of a textile mill locating in this area. There were some thirty-odd people present including Mayor Carver and Commissioners Lader and Glover. Ways and means of financing this project were discussed and it was decided by those present that the only way to finance so large a project was for the City to float a bond issue, possibly in the amount of $100,000.00 or thereabouts.

It was proposed that Mayor Carver would appoint a committee whose duty it would be to further study the requests of Mr. F. H. G. Beeren, Dutch industrialist, who proposes to erect this textile mill in our city.

This industrial plant, if erected, would at first employ at least fifty persons and gradually increase to a maximum of three hundred or more. If this came to pass it would mean quite a nice payroll for the people of our town, and a payroll of this size means more spending and more business. So you can readily see the possibility of a brighter future for Bay St. Louis if we encourage industry rather than let other communities take advantage of these opportunities because of our lack of confidence, and the courage to take a chance.

As one business man said, surely we cannot lose, because even if this initial venture failed there would be others who would be only too glad to locate here, since the building would already have been erected and ready for occupancy, especially since this building will remain the property of the city at all times, and therefore would not be a loss.

If the question of a bond issue arises then it will be up to the people to decide whether they want industry and payrolls in Bay St. Louis or whether they prefer their business to die a slow death, which most of them now seem to be doing.

HELP THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The Chamber of Commerce has launched a campaign to purchase a spraying machine for the City to use in spraying insects throughout the community. They have started the fund off by donating $100.00, and are asking all business houses to donate from $5.00 to $15.00 or whatever they think they can afford and also private residents to help as much as they can toward paying for this machine, which when put in use, can mean so much for the comfort and convenience of our residents.

Last year the city spent more than $1,000.00 to spray the town. This machine when purchased, will be given to the city and will remain their property in the future and can be used successfully for a number of years, if properly taken care of.

We think this is a noble gesture on the part of the Chamber of Commerce and they deserve the cooperation of everyone since all will benefit by the use of the machine.

Womens Society of Christian Service Meeting Held May 16th

The Women's Society of Christian Service held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Eugene M. Gagnier, 1501 Beach Blvd., Tuesday, May 16, at 8:00 o'clock.

Mrs. S. J. Mauffray presided at the meeting, assisted by Mrs. C. M. Stapp, a leader of the program.

The Christmas Home, sponsored by Mrs. T. A. Egan, Mrs. S. J. Mauffray, Mrs. D. C. Kiley and Mrs. W. S. Stapp, was the subject of the meeting.

It was announced that a study course would be held in the Methodist Church, the last week in June, entitled, "The People of the Book of the Bible."

The meeting is scheduled to be held only the date to be set later. Mrs. T. T. Robinson, pastor of the church, will be the speaker.

Mrs. W. W. James was a delegate to the National Assembly in Cleveland, Ohio, on April 18, and gave a very interesting outline of her trip.

The presentation of three life membership pins was the highlight of the meeting. The recipients were Mrs. J. B. Goldman, Mrs. W. W. Stokell and Mrs. S. J. Mauffray. These were given in recognition of service and loyalty.

Reports were heard from the various committees and the meeting adjourned with prayer given by Mrs. F. J. Nelson.

Mrs. M. Gagnier was assisted by Mrs. H. J. Thompson and Mrs. R. Gagnier as a hostess.

Trifles & Treasures

by PEGGY FOOTE

"My house was plain and bare.

No pretty things at all

And so I bought a silver vase.

Burnished and very tall.

And then I bought a scarf,

To give the vase an air,

And that required a table

Which in turn required a chair."

That is part of poem by my lovely friend, Sunshine Dickson Ryman, of Houston, included in her latest edition which she sent me a copy of. The poem is called "Things" and reminds me of my very first interest in homemaking and decorating. Only I didn't buy a vase, I bought an old beat-up oil lamp and had it converted into a useful object. Right then I got the "bug" and have been interested ever since.

More often homes lack character and too often they lack color. In the "old days" buff walls were a set rule, but we do not have to conform to such conservatism in this age. It is true, we can go overboard on color and create quite a garish effect, but the point is, just as in every other undertaking, to strike the proverbial "happy medium."

But do use color in your homes, girls.

It will give it a face-lifting as nothing else will. I know of a home I have visited which has Chinese red walls in the living room. Sounds awful doesn't it? But, it is toned down with soft greys and chartreuse accompaniments.

It is a beautiful room with a picture window overlooking a lovely vista. But,

I am not advocating red walls unless you can change them every year as Marge can. Mine have to do me much longer than that, so I select some color that does not get monotonous, but, I deliberately do have color. If you are skeptical of your own selections or are hesitant about what colors to combine, or if you have any problem at all in your decorating, please write me in care of this paper and I will be glad to help you. I'm sure that together, we can work out some satisfactory scheme.

A visitor (a good friend) once remarked me after going through my home on an "inspection" tour. "I like everything you have, but not the marble tops." She explained that marble tops on furniture brought forth some unpleasant circumstances from her childhood. To me they represent cool, spacious rooms; lazy summer afternoons;

lemonade and molasses cookies and most of all—grandma.

Speaking of grandma—my two house

guests and I drove over to Covington

one day to visit my grandmother's old home. Did I say old? You should see it! A lumberman from Pennsylvania bought it some years ago and built a new Colonial type house around the original one, so to speak; added lace grill work carriage lamps, wide ver-andas, a boat house, a swimming pool and tennis courts. The house is situated on a point where the Tchefuneta River

greys and chartreuse accompaniments.

and a bayou meet and half circle the grounds. Moss hung trees are reflected in the water and white, yellow and blue water lilies float lazily near the shore. The original boat landing is still there where the old steamboat "Camellia" used to tie up once a month to deliver provisions to my grandmother. In those days the "Camellia" was the only means of transportation and I remember my brothers and older sister speaking with animation about the boat ride to grandma's. My grandfather and a brick kiln there and the present when kept the old brick fire places and mids intact. The place was deserted not even the caretaker was there and there was an aura of ghost-like loneliness about it. The climatic and tape jasmine perfumed the whole area. I was touched with a bit of sadness for way it last summer the mistress of Hyacinth was lost at sea on a return voyage from Egypt. I remember her enthusiasm over the place and the pride she had in her lovely young daughter and small son.

Oh! had I only been old enough I could never have let such a heavenly spot be sold out of the family.

Here is the recipe for the Dutch potato salad I promised you.

Select red potatoes, they boil best. Peel and break up with a fork. Add a generous blob of butter. Drain several slices of onion and drain. Add and break into small bits. Add to potatoes with a large onion chopped fine, one pod of garlic, minced, chopped pimento, salt, pepper, and a good dash of two of vinegar. Add mayonnaise to smooth and mix all together. Sprinkle top with paprika and here is the crowning garnish! Break up Roquefort Cheese in small bits and sprinkle over all. Um-m-m-m! Serve warm. You'll notice I didn't give but very few specific measurements. That is because most of us make our salads to our individual taste. But, the basic ingredients are there.

Down in Havana, Cuba there is an enormous orphanage. If I remember correctly it occupies one whole city block. On one side of the high brick wall which surrounds it is a door which swings upward at the slightest push. It is just large enough to admit a fair sized basket or bundle. Through this door young mother's place their infants—that is, if they cannot face the world with them. The weight of the infant placed in a receptacle lets off an alarm deep in the recesses of the building and an attendant rushes down to retrieve the little one. By this method the young mother's identity is never disclosed and her baby is safely guarded inside. It is said by the Cuban guides that this process was instituted some years ago to discourage the practice of casting the infants into the sea.

The best time to "do" Havana is in the early fall—that is if you want an uncrowded and less expensive vacation. Rates hike in high season. Take summer clothes any time, tho, as Havana has a perpetual temperature of 72 degrees. You won't like the food, I'm afraid, some of it I simply could not eat. But, do go once, if you can. I think once will suffice.

To please my Nordic guest we ate by candlelight the other evening. The draft that the window fan created interest somewhat, however, but the effect was pleasing. Our centerpiece flanked by our tear-drop candelabra was a low bowl of waxy gardenias. Suddenly, she began to laugh and said "candlelight, gardenias and gumbos." I'm sure she was thinking about the messy job we had facing us when we began to tackle the crab claws. We realized how silly it all was, but we had a lot of fun.

On May 18 the mothers of the children attending Christ Church Parish School, were entertained at the Parish House.

Incidentally, this same friend always amazes me with her knowledge on practically any subject. I always feel like I've had a refresher course after she leaves. Who was it that said a "true friend was rarer than rubies?"

Speaking of fun—it is so important. Most of the world is too serious. A sense of humor is such a priceless thing. It keeps us young, alive, and escapes many an otherwise tricky situation. If we don't have one we can surely develop one.

I know of a nurse we once had in our home who was so phlegmatic that she, truthfully, would have made me ill to be around her too long. On the other hand I know people who bubble with humor, which brings to my thought Mrs. J. R. Rollins. She has a delightful sense of humor and I love to watch her eyes sparkle when she repeats some popular incident or anecdote. Her poise, too, is matchless. I envy it.

Next week I will have a recipe for you which I begged from the chef at the Houston Country Club several years ago. It is for a poppy-seed dressing and is wonderful for your summer salads.

Au revoir

Congressional Sidelights

—by—
CONGRESSMAN WM. M. COLMER

FEPIC
There was much rejoicing among Southern Democrats in Washington this past week end. The Senate, after two weeks of intermittent debate on the motion to take up the Administration's FEPIC Bill in that body, voted on a cloture role, which would have cut off debate on the motion to take up the bill. The size of the vote was a surprise even to the opponents of the FEPIC Bill. While the vote was 52 for cloture, 32 against cloture, it was generally thought that the Administration would be able to muster possibly as many as 60 votes. Senator Withers of Kentucky was absent, but it was announced on the Senate floor that if he were present he would vote against shutting off debate, which in effect made the vote 52 for and 33 against.

It will be borne in mind that, under the rules of the Senate, in order to make cloture (stop debate) 64 affirmative votes are required.
The breakdown was 33 Democrats and 19 Republicans for invoking cloture, and 26 Democrats and 6 Republicans voting against stopping debate.
Senator Lucas, the Senate Majority Leader, announced before the vote that, if the Administration failed to get the required 64 votes to take up the bill, he would try again next week. Therefore, while the victory is only a temporary one, the foes of this Un-American type of legislation have reason to believe and to feel that next week the story will be pretty much the same. And again the Southern Senators have demonstrated that, under the liberal rules of Senate debate, they are able to stop this type of legislation.

As an interesting sidelight it might be pointed out that Senator Pepper, the Liberal from Florida, who recently suffered a smashing defeat at the polls in that state, was absent and his position was unannounced. It is also interesting to note that Senator Graham of North Carolina, another Southern Pro-

Loyalty Affidavit Blanks Are Ready

Jackson, Miss. Thousands of affidavits swearing the signer is not a subversive person are ready for mailing to employees and officials of the State of Mississippi.
Each employee and official must sign it on or before the 1950 Legislature adjourns with preliminary penalties for anyone falsifying his statement.
The affidavits will be mailed by secretary of state Heber Laddier. School teachers and officials are included.
Laddier also has on hand 3000 copies of the affidavit that must be signed by candidates for state and national office.

CHRYSLER LAUNCHES NEWSPAPER CAMPAIGN

Detroit. A newspaper campaign described as the largest and most costly that has ever been put behind a line of Chrysler cars has been announced by Joseph A. O'Malley, general manager, Chrysler Sales Division Chrysler Corporation.
The campaign will include more than three thousand daily and weekly newspapers from coast to coast, covering practically every Chrysler-Plymouth dealer town that has a newspaper.
The first advertisement appeared the week of May 14th. A second will follow the week of May 21st, and the third the month of June.

Aggressive and Liberal, who is now engaged in a death struggle for reelection in that state, was also absent and unannounced. Incidentally, in the North Carolina race, pretty much the same type of campaign is being waged against Senator Graham by a former President of the American Bar Association, William Smith, and former Senator Robert Reynolds as was waged by young Congressman Smathers against Senator Pepper. Senator Graham has been identified in the past with a number of Progressive organizations with pinkish tinges. He also has the backing of the CIO and the Society for the Advancement of Colored People, as well as the aforementioned organizations.

'UNDER MY SKIN' AT STAR THEATRE NEXT THURS. & FRI., 1-2

A vital, dramatic picture which pulsates with the thundering of horse's hoofs and the heartbeats of a guy, his girl and a little boy bound together in a story of love and danger "Under My Skin," at the Star Theatre next Thursday and Friday, June 1-2, captures all the original flavor of the Ernest Hemingway story on which it is based.

Twentieth Century-Fox has brought together a new and wonderful team in John Garfield as a jockey and French star Micheline Prelle as a Parisian cafe artist. Garfield is tougher and more rugged than ever, Prelle warm, tender, openly emotional with her heart on her sleeve as only the French know how to wear it.

The film concerns a crooked jockey who tries to go straight, though the effort is fraught with continual danger. It depicts the thrilling horse-racing game, and the human lives and loves of those who work behind the scenes. An exciting racing picture, the Paris race track scenes are beautifully photographed and directed to snare the maximum in thrills and suspense. But mixed with the pounding of the horse's hoofs are the tender, husky strains of Micheline Prelle's voice singing in a Paris cafe. For, with background foot-

Marbury, State president, presided. Reports from all state chairmen were given and the judging school chairman, Mrs. E. R. Owen, of Jackson, reported that there are 73 nationally accredited judges in the State of Mississippi. The state president, Mrs. Marbury, announced that the Blue Star Memorial Highway 61, Mrs. Robert Schwartz of Hattiesburg, chairman of Roadside Parks, reported thirty deeds were completed and land donated, 20 parks in use, six under construction, four markers, and fifteen more parks allotted from the Highway Commissioner.

The Membership Chairman, Mrs. Wm. Powell, Jr., of Belzoni, reported 500 clubs in the State of Mississippi with a membership of 5000.

After the business meeting was adjourned, everyone was invited to attend the dedication of Magnolia Park on Highway 49, ten miles west of Greenwood, and box lunches were furnished to all registered guests.

age taken in the French capital, this film captures, as few have done, the warmth, the sentimentality, the air of love and drama that is such an integral part of Paris.
As the crooked jockey, John Garfield gives one of his finest performances. Rugged and emotional, giving breath and life to a character whose sordid past is a continual barrier to a decent future.
Miss Prelle's debut in American films proves to be an auspicious one. To her natural allure, there are her dramatic flair and vocal ability to add. This is an impressive newcomer to the domestic screen.
Luther Adler, as a vicious gambler, 10-year-old Orley Lindgren as Garfield's hero-worshipping son, and Noel Drayton also score.
Jean Negulesco directed the Hemingway adaptation by Casey Robinson, who also produced the new thriller.
